WHEELING, MAY 13, 1895.

An Open China, The treaty which opens China to Japan opens that country to the rest of the world as well. In a country having an estimated population of 400,000,000 this moans very much. The Chinese have not the consuming capacity of an equal number of Caucasians, but nevertheless they consume.

It is expected with reason that a great deal of American machinery will find a profitable market in China, The Chinese use cotton fabrics largely, and now that our machinery may go in free of duty it is believed that foreign capital will take it there in very considerable quantity. This in turn will increase the market for our raw cotton. These are the ex-It is just as likely that something more will come to pass. Having improved machinery for the production of cotton textiles and the advantage of very low priced labor, the manufacturers of China will be heard from in the markets of the world. The labor of China is not merely low priced, it is absolutely cheap because it is effective. The Chinese are proverbially imitathing and they can do it. Give them improved machinery under good supervision and they can use the machinery. What is to be the effect on our own cot ton textile industry? It looks very much like putting Winchesters into the hands of the Indians to shoot us with. But the Indians get the Winchesters and the Chinese will get the improved machinery. The defeat in war may easily prove a bleasing to China and bring some other parts of the world to face decidedly new condi-

Rev. Dr. Swore's discourse before the Trades Assembly was worth hearing and is worth reading. It appears in full in to-day's INTELLIGENCER.

Too American For the Place. If Don M. Dickinson be as close to the President as he is thought to be. the President must have known before the Detroit speech that the eminent Michigander entertains some views of international policy very far from those of the administration. Mr. Dickinson sees in the questions raised by Great Britain in Central America a direct drive at the Nicaragua canal. This the administration has been unable to perceive. On the contrary the administration has rather second to see in Great Britain's managevering to the south of us an earnest desire to give us renewed assurances of her distinguished considera-

It has been thought that the President would be glad of an opportunity to make Mr. Dickinson secretary state. If this be true Mr. Dickinson has probably talked himself out of that high preferment. Mrs. Herry Gueen, who is as talented a tax-dodger as George Gould, might settle somewhere for a few moments and set up a senatorial lightning rod.

Another Plum for the Syndicate? Present indications are that the gov. ermennt will be forced to float another loan in order to get money to keep up running expenses. The beauty about this loan is that if it be offered before October it must go to the syndicate who got the late loan, probably as the

At all events it is understood that the contract includes an option on the next toan. If this be true, the administration has still more to answer for, and its party will have to do the answering. The people are in a mood to resent that way of mismanaging their business.

A supper chill has fallen on the straw hat and the ice machine.

The Delaware Senatorship The Democratic governor of Delaware will appoint a Democrat to succeed Senator Higgins in the United States senate. The prospects of the appointed being seated are very remote. No vacancy has happened within the contem. plation of the constitution.

Dupont, scouted by the Democrats, be held to be valid. Dupont is probably entitled to his seat. However this may be, the appointes of the governor will have no title to the seat.

Governor Wilson, of West Virginia, appointed Judge Lucas when the legislature had failed to elect a successor to Senator Camden, and Judge Lucas was not given the seat, the senate taking the ground that no vacancy had hap pened within the meaning of the constitution. It seems to be well settled that the governor of a state cannot appoint under such circumstances.

An Addicks Movement in New Jersey. If report may be trusted, they are about to have some Delaware politics in New Jersey, for George Gould has determined to try to break into the United States senate from that state. Mr. Gould is a Democrat and thinks that with his able assistance New Jersey may be brought back into the Democra tic fold. He has in New Jersey about the kind of residence that Mr. Addicks has in Delaware.

Whether it will turn ont any better for him and his party than Mr. Addicks's has for him and his party, is something that time must tell. It is possible, of course, that Mr. Gould has no thought of getting into the United States senate. That would be just as SHARR CHAMPION BLAND exhorts good men and true to support for the presidency no man who does not favor the free coinage of silver. It is a fair inference that if the Democrats nominate a sound money man Brother Bland will bolt. There will be others. The Republican party may lose some on the same issue, but united there will not be enough of them to carry the country. The nearer we get to the voting time the more clearly this will appear.

THE Mexican dollar is quoted in New York at 53 cents, the market value of the silver it contains, and there is more fine silver in it than there is in the standard American silver dollar. Mexice is on a silver basis and her coin goes for what there is in it. Under like conditions our silver dollar would fall to the same low estate. It is held up now by the sustaining power of gold. This is the fact, whatever the free coinage advocates may think or say.

SENATOR BRICE makes an argument against introducing the free coinage silver into the Ohio Democratic r form. He tells the faithful over river that if they go into the free nonsonsa they will go into the co without him. Won't the fee port of this threat give thy Well, rather.
